Statement of Purpose: The West Virginia Academy of Science is an organization of West Virginians who are interested in any aspect of science, whether as teachers in college or in high school, as manufacturers, as professional men, or merely as lovers of science. Residents of other states are also eligible for membership. Papers on all phases of science, whether pure or applied, are acceptable for the program. The six groups of the Academy appear to afford a place for any pertinent subject; if not, new sections can be organized. All interested persons are invited to attend the meetings and become members.

Notes to Chairmen of Sections: A person desiring to submit a paper, or abstract thereof, for publication in the proceedings should leave a copy with the section chairman or send it promptly to the secretary J. E. Judson, Buckhannon. Such papers must be in the hands of the secretary by May 18, and must conform to the rules for such manuscripts recently put into the hands of all members. The Academy does not print papers by non-members or papers which have been, or are to be, published elsewhere. Long or profusely illustrated papers, or papers requiring special typographical symbols, cannot be accepted for publication at the present time.

Local Arrangements: Full details concerning local arrangements will be found in the letter which accompanies this program.
